

COLONEL KEITH E. KNOWLTON

Deputy Commander
Reserve Components Soldier Medical Service Center
Pinellas Park, Florida

As Deputy Commander, Colonel Knowlton is responsible for the daily operations of the Reserve Components Soldier Medical Service Center, a multiple component Army activity comprised of United States Army Reserve and Army National Guard Soldiers. The Center is a subordinate element of the United States Physical Disability Agency, and facilitates entry of Reserve Component Soldiers into the Disability Evaluation System.

Colonel Knowlton received his commission as a Second Lieutenant, Infantry, in 1984 through the Reserve Officer Training Corps at Georgia State University. A rated Army Aviator, he has led units at the platoon, company, battalion, and brigade level. His most recent assignment was as the J2, Georgia Department of Defense. His immediate prior assignment was Chief of the Military Technical Agreement Branch, Headquarters, International Security Assistance Force, Kabul, Afghanistan.

Colonel Knowlton possesses graduate degrees from the United States Army War College and Georgia State University. Colonel Knowlton and his spouse reside with their three school age children in Atlanta, Georgia.